General Requirements

Before you begin:

- Applicants must provide accurate information to Screen Australia at all times. A person or company that makes a false or misleading statement to Screen Australia in an application may face criminal or civil liability including liability for an offence under the Criminal Code Act 1995. In addition, if funding awarded by Screen Australia was obtained by fraud or serious misrepresentation, Screen Australia can revoke its funding.
- It is important that you read our Terms of Trade, the Enterprise People Guidelines and the Enterprise FAQ to ensure your project is eligible for Screen Australia Funding and to help you deliver the strongest application possible.
- For help completing this application, refer to the Help Guide for Applicants or Applicant Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQs\)
- For queries about the guidelines, deadlines, or questions in the form, please contact us on 1800 507 901 during business hours or email enterprise@screenaustralia.gov.au and quote your application number

This round of the Enterprise People Program will focus support on content creation (above the line roles) by funding $75,000 toward new placement proposals from individual applicants who work in areas of content creation, development, and output.

The Enterprise Program is a Content focused strategy and applications will be accepted from Business or People applicants who work in the following areas of Content:

- First Nations
- Online
- Documentary
- Scripted

Please confirm that the applicant *

- is an Australian citizen or permanent resident
- meets all requirements and conditions in Screen Australia's Terms of Trade.

Enterprise People 2023-2024

- has a primary practice of working in/on scripted or documentary content for domestic and/or international markets and your sector engagement is one or more of the following: Scripted, First Nations, Online (Feature, TV/ Episodic) and Documentary (One-Off/Feature, Online, Episodic)
- has reportable credits in the genre or platform for which they are seeking support

Funding Stream

Generate applicants are defined as early to mid-career practitioners usually defined as in the first 5 to 10 years of their practice in any creative role in their given area of practice and who have reportable credits in the practice in which they are seeking support.

Generate applicants are eligible for a domestic career placement.

Premium applicants are defined as experienced practitioners usually defined as in excess of 5 to 10 years of practice in any creative role in their sector activity in their given area of practice and have reportable credits in that practice in which they are seeking support.

Premium applications are eligible for an international career placement. Under exceptional circumstances (caring responsibilities, accessibility requirements), a Premium applicant may identify a domestic placement, especially if with an international-facing company or one that aligns with the applicant's career development plans.

See the Program Guidelines and FAQ for more detail on the distinction between Generate and Premium applicants for the purposes of this program.

Which stream of funding are you applying for based on your experience and the definitions provided above? *

- Generate
- Premium

Please also confirm that the applicant: *

- has credit on lower-budget television, feature or online produced work and at a minimum has industry experience in above the line roles on commissioned short-form* produced work that has achieved some critical or commercial traction
- is in the first five (5) to ten (10) years of their practice in the industry in roles similar to which they are seeking support for through this program
- where the applicant is from an under-represented community, the applicant may not hold reportable credits in screen, but has evidence of the relevant skills, potential and experience in other relevant content creation fields.

Short-form produced work is scripted or documentary work that sits within Screen Australia's Terms of Trade, and is produced for the platforms of feature, television, and online. The applicant may have credit on lower-budget television, feature or online produced work.*

For the purposes of this program, under-represented applicants may include: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples; people who are from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds (CALD); people from the Deaf/Disabled and/or Neurodivergent (DDN) communities; women, non-binary or gender diverse; people who identify as LGBTQIA+; people located in regional and remote areas; and, any other under-represented community that is brought to our attention.*

Is the applicant from a culturally or linguistically diverse background? *

Does the applicant live with a disability? *

Please select the applicant's cultural background/ethnicity:

Does the applicant identify as LGBTQIA+? *

Please select the applicant's first language (as a child). If Indigenous, go to the next question.

'LGBTQIA+' refer to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender/gender diverse, queer and intersex - the '+' recognises that LGBTQIA doesn't include a range of other terms that people identify with, or use to describe themselves. We acknowledge that one acronym or description may be not able to fully capture the diversity of gender identities, sexual orientations and bodily diversity in our community, and that language is constantly evolving. Our intention is to be as succinct as we can, but inclusive of all.
