Protagonist

A protagonist:

- Holds the 'point of view', or provides the dominant point of view that is experienced by the audience
- Drives the action of the story
- Has an arc of change:
 - The emotional and story stakes are tied to the protagonist's arc
 - A protagonist may not experience an arc of change, but may 'blossom' into their own fully realised selves, which in turn promotes changes in characters around them
 - A protagonist may 'fail' to change, and still be a protagonist (e.g. a protagonist who is confronted with a character 'flaw', does not change, and suffers the consequences).

A character does not have to feature all of the above factors to be a protagonist (or the only protagonist).

Ensemble dramas/ dramas with multiple protagonists

Several characters may meet the classification of a protagonist. These characters' stories may intertwine throughout the plot (for example Nowhere Boys and The Katering Show), or they may only interact occasionally, if at all (Redfern Now series).

Series drama may be structured to feature a different protagonist in each episode (for example, The Slap).

Gender equity, diversity and inclusivity are priorities for Screen Australia. We therefore expect that both diversity of the narrative and characters are reflected within the creative team. Also, consider whether your team has the right to tell the story and whether your telling of it will be authentic.

Socio-economic backgrounds of key creatives may form a part of the project strategy to promote inclusivity and authenticity of story-telling.

Please state in what ways your project will promote diversity and inclusion both on screen and/or behind the camera. *

If first language is an Indigenous language, please select from AIATSIS Austlang Database:

'LGBTQI+' refer to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender/gender diverse, queer and intersex - the '+' recognises that LGBTQI doesn't include a range of other terms that people identify with, or use to describe themselves. We acknowledge that one acronym or description may be not able to fully capture the diversity of gender identities, sexual orientations and bodily diversity in our community, and that language is constantly evolving. Our intention is to be as succinct as we can, but inclusive of all.
